The American minister to Mexico writes concerning the disastrous effects to that country of the recent decline of silver in the London market, saying that although the double standard of gold and silver, the latter being an unmitigated legal tender for all debts, public and private, prevails in Mexico and although gold is constantly coined in the mints, it has ceased to be a circulating medium and the country has been almost completely drained of it. It is very hard to purchase even a few thousand dollars, in the city of Mexico, at a premium of about 14 to 18 per cent, according to the fluctuations of the London silver market.

From three to four thousand dwellings are rendered uninhabitable. The result is vast pecuniary damage. The authorities are maintaining the homeless poor. ## Amicably Adjustable.

By Cable to the News.
LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Times editorial announces the payment on 23rd inst. of the Halifax fisheries award. It accepts the approaching settlement as an additional assurance that no insuperable difficulty will be found in arranging other questions now disputed between the two countries. Regarding the binding all fisheries alike, it may not be inconsistent with treaty rights. The only question is whether the initiative of making them shall be left to the local legislatures or reserved for a joint authority appointed by the two central governments.

Supreme Court Decision.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—In the Supreme Court to-day a decision was made in the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company v. Davenport, the question being whether a joint stock company is liable to an individual stockholder for a certificate of stock, which had been stolen from him, and which the company, upon a forged power of attorney, had transferred on its books to another party. The court holds that there can be no question as to the right of a stockholder to have his stolen shares replaced and a proper certificate issued to him; therefore, and to receive all the dividends which shall have accrued thereto, since the unauthorized transfer. The forgery, it is held, cannot confer power to the purchaser of the property which will avail as an answer to the claim of the stockholder. Of the company are the custodians of the stock books, and it is their duty to see that all transfers of shares are properly made, either by the stockholders themselves or by persons having authority from them. If, on presentation of a certificate, the company is in doubt as to the authenticity of a conveyance or the identity of a person, it can require the genuineness of the one or identity of the other to be satisfactorily established, but in either case it must act upon its own responsibility.

A Big Georgia Express Robbery.

By Telegraph to the News.

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 18.—George W. Williams of Charleston, shipped by Southern Express a package of twenty-five thousand dollars to Reaves, Nicholson & Co., Athens, Ga. The Charleston Express messenger turned it over to the messenger on the Port Royal road, thus crossing this side of Yemassee. The money was sent and the messenger so reported on his arrival at Augusta. This occurred some time ago, but the affair has been kept secret until now. Messenger Walter S. Lynch, an old employee of the company, who had the money in charge, with other Express employees have been engaged in working up the robbery without success in implicating other parties. Lynch returned to Atlanta this afternoon, and reported to General Superintendent O'Brien that he had not been able to find any clue to the robbery. The officers of the company, looking into the circumstances implicated Lynch, and his master, Sheriff, and in default of bail, he will be sent to jail. Hetherot Lynch has borne a good character. The Express company paid the money promptly.

In Columbia county this morning an old colored man named Henry McLees, shot and killed his son Henry, because the latter had broken into and stolen things from his house some months ago.

Rights of Pedestrians.

By Telegraph to the News.

THE NEW YORK COURTS OF APPEALS has decided that it is the duty of a pedestrian who is about to cross a street to look both ways to see whether any teams are crossing, and that it is as much his duty to look out for vehicles as it is of those who drive the latter to look out for him. ### LOCAL BRIEFS.

A letter addressed to J. J. Wickler, Sheriff of Moore county, is held for postage.

Yesterday was dull enough and cheerless enough to satisfy the most misanthropic mortal that ever lived.

The vicinity of the court house was made lively yesterday by a number of urchins who played many games of marbles.

A sightless singer made his appearance on the streets yesterday, led by a little boy, and put up a pitiful plea for alms.

Messrs. Hardin, Grimes & Co., always up with the times, advertise fresh arrivals of desirable goods this morning.

Many demands for wood were made yesterday, but the street market was poorly supplied, and the little loads brought fancy prices.

There will be a regular meeting of the Raleigh Chapter, No. 40, at 7:30 this evening. Members are specially requested to be present punctually.

Drummer's licenses were yesterday issued to Marrow & Co., Norfolk, Va.; W. J. C. Dulan, Baltimore; and Jas. A. Cullen, agent Gen. C. Ware, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The store long occupied by Mr. Towles, on the Burlington street, is gone, and in its place is rising a magnificent building, which is to be three stories high, with a Mansard roof, and will be an ornament to the street.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stromach, one of the liveliest and most enterprising firms in the State. Among other items they advertise fresh Florida oranges at 2 cents apiece, bananas and plantains at 5 and 7 cents apiece.

Personal.

Mr. S. M. Carpenter, of the Newbern, is in the city.

Robbery.

Mr. Geo. B. Ennis, residing in St. Mary street, was, during the last few nights past, robbed of $113. His house was entered and the cashbox rifled. This is quite a loss, when the scarcity of the lute in these times is considered.

Requisition.

The Governor has made requisition upon the Governor of South Carolina for a trace of fugitives from justice. They belong to it is understood to the escaped convict persuasion and their services are needed.

Resisted.

Robert Boswell, colored, convicted at the last term of Orange County of murder and sentenced to be hanged on the 22nd inst., has been respite by the Governor for good and sufficient reason, until Friday, February 7th, 1879.

On the European Plan.

Mr. J. Higgs has rented the Smith house, at the corner of Salisbury and Hargett streets, and will fit and refurnish it, converting it into a hotel on the European plan. Work was begun yesterday and the building will soon be ready for use.

Virginia Methodist Conference.

The Virginia Conference is in session in the city of Petersburg. There is quite a full attendance of both clerical and lay delegates. Bishop Pearce, who it was announced was too ill to leave his home in Georgia, surprised his host of friends by his arrival. Rev. Dr. McFerrin, of Nashville, is also present.

The Graded School.

Four hundred and thirteen pupils in their seats at the Graded school yesterday. The bad weather did not deter the juveniles from attending. Those have been registered at the school, since the beginning of the present session, about 525 pupils. The average attendance is about 425. The institution is now in full operation, and a visit proves very interesting.

A Choice Instrument.

One of the finest pianos in the city is that recently purchased by Mrs. Julius Lewis, of Charles M. Steiff, a great manufacturer. It is an instrument that will attract both as regards its exquisite finish and workmanship and its pure and sweet quality of tone, its depth and richness, its singing quality and its evenness of scale. The touch is easy and at the same time elastic. The superiority of this instrument will attract the attention of lovers of music to the manufacturers of Mr. Steiff.

Chicken Thieves.

These light-fingered gentry make things lively for the owners of poultry in east Raleigh. They levy contributions on the coops nightly, and snatch away the choicest specimens of the feathered tribe. A few have last night so far in a condition that the dwellers in that part of the city are staying their poultry as the only means for keeping the meat for themselves. The thieves take the entire lot of fowls from a yard they visit, by no chance sparing even one.

Methodist Church Festival.

The ladies of Edenton street Methodist Church will furnish an entertainment at Metropolitan Hall on Thursday evening next. Fresh oysters will be served in varied and excellent style, as well as other edibles, substantial and luxuriant. The proceeds of the entertainment are for the benefit of the church, and it is hoped that the public will patronize it liberally. The festival will be held by the ladies of this church are noted for their elegance and completeness, and the one on Thursday night will be equal to those heretofore enjoyed by the Raleigh public.

A NOBLE CHARITY.

St. John's Guild—Its Hospital.
For many years the need of a hospital in this city, where the penniless and homeless might find a refuge when they suffered by disease or accident, has been felt. But none has been in operation, though prior to the war a building and grounds, known as the Rex Hospital, was bequeathed for this benevolent purpose. The good work of establishing such a hospital was left almost unthought of until the benevolent society known as St. John's Guild took the matter in their charge, and with the usual vigor shown by its members, set to work to make the hospital a success and a fixture.

At a meeting, held March 27th 1878, a committee was appointed to visit and relieve the wants of a certain sick stranger, then in the city, and in connection with this matter, a most interesting discussion ensued in reference to the establishment of a hospital, which is one of the most prominent objects of the Guild. Since then, the member has been the thoroughly considered, and on the 10th of last September, a report was received from the Hospital committee, detailing the expense of renting a house, fitting it, or a part of it up, and running it as a Free Hospital with, say, two beds, for one month. Nearly one half of the amount required was raised immediately by the members present, and the committee given full power to act so soon as the requisite amount for equipment etc., was in hand. In a short time, the members of the Guild, with the aid of probably a half dozen outside friends, raised more than the amount required, and equipped and opened by St. John's Guild, its one object was to minister to, and relieve, as far as possible, the sick and infirm, and to offer a temporary refuge for those who through stress of circumstances are unable to take care of themselves, and who, for want of proper medical treatment and tender nursing, must inevitably die. No questions will be asked as to creed or nationality, no restriction upon the religious liberty of any patient, and the amount of good done will be limited only by the support and encouragement accorded by the public.

The good work has been done by the voluntary subscriptions of members of the Guild, and that noble band of workers have now completed all their arrangements and opened the hospital. The building is a two-story frame house, situated on Wilmington street, near Caburn, contains four rooms, and is conveniently furnished. Mrs. Campbell, formerly connected with the D. and B. Asylum, has been chosen as Matron, and has charge of the building. The entire management of the hospital is under the special care of Dr. P. E. Hines and the following gentlemen, as committee: Rev. Edward R. Rich, President of the Guild; Rev. M. M. D. D., Vice President; Dr. A. W. Kux, A. P. C. Bryan, E. Q. Richard H. Battle, Jr., Esq., Chas. E. Johnson, E. Q., and Jas. A. E. Under such a management and with the fostering care of the Guild in its aid, the success of the new enterprise is assured, and its maintenance a certainty. The best medical attention and means for the comfort of patients will be given and used.
